War declared on the TV show “Ghost Lab”

At least once every two months they call me asking for help. They keep going through producers on that show and each new producer calls me up asking for assistance. But I have had enough. The TV audience is being fed a bunch of garbage on that show. Anyone who uses EMF detectors around a Tesla Coil and concludes that the EMFs detected were ghosts, simply does not have a clue what they are doing. A tesla coil is essentially a large EMF generator. Any electronic instruments are rendered useless when used near an operating Tesla Coil. Next they asked me to help them build a portable device that generates EMF. Well, I told them, you don't need to build such a device since they already exist. For example, a cell phone jammer. It's small and portable. Of course, they did not want to hear that so I was shunned once again. Generating EMFs is the wrong approach anyway. Just because ghosts seem to generate EMF does not mean that they will come to you if you generate your own EMF. This isn't a mating call. The goal is to locate the entities and track their movement or reproduce their image using modern technology, (which is something we are close to doing.)

Carpathia, the ultimate experiment

Carpathia is the one experiment that has the potential to prove once and for all if humans have a soul or separate entity that leaves the body upon death. Carpathia has been in design for the past year and involved several engineers, and a talented physicist.

This experiment involves numerous pieces of equipment and a team of people. We do not have enough people to conduct the experiment at this time. These people are not the subject of the experiment, but they are needed to manage it and observe the results.

If Carpathia succeeds, it will be accepted by people all across the world. It was designed so that it will be difficult to argue against the results.

Portions of Carpathia are very controversial and therefore we are not disclosing the details. Nobody is harmed in any way during the experiment, but because of how the experiment is conducted, we expect a certain amount of controversy. That is why it's important for us to reveal the details only after we have run the experiment.

I can tell you that Carpathia will utilize ultrasonics, lasers, electric fields, radar, and other technologies.

If Carpathia succeeds, it could change everything. But at the same time we have to allow for the fact that it might not work. Either way, we are at least trying to find the answer.

To find Ghosts leave the people behind

We did some research and determined that 93% of all paranormal encounters happen to just one person. Yet the so called ghost hunting experts send in teams of 5 or more people. This proves that they have no common sense or the ability to think. We also determined that most of these “ghost sightings” go away when a loud noise or scream is made by the observer. This is the secret, ghosts do not like crowds of people and noise.

Leave a haunted house empty for a night and you will learn the secret. When the house is empty, “they” talk. In this relaxed atmosphere, these entities may carry on complete conversations.

Remember, the most successful investigations send in only one person. Another reason the TV ghost hunting programs send in so many people is because they are cowards. If you truly want to find the answers to the paranormal then you must put aside your fear.

In the words of Evel Knievel, “fear is not a word in my vocabulary, I never have and never will know what that word means.”

Queen Mary Disaster

Step aboard the Queen Mary today and you will be sickened by the mockery they have made to this ship and any entities who continue to reside there.

The Queen Mary’s “Haunted Tour” involves animatronics, loud noises, and tons of screaming kids. The ceiling of the swimming pool area is now covered with large speakers. I feel that any entities that may have been on this ship have since left it.

If you want to study qhosts, you must setup an ultra sensitive environment which means complete quiet.

Like Edison said, we need a device that is super sensitive to detect the paranormal realm.

As a result of this fiasco, the Ghost Engineers have written off the Queen Mary as a possible paranormal experimentation site.

Our first movie

As you requested, I decided to put together a short video. We have never made movies before, so please send us your feedback.

The video can be viewed on youtube at:

Back Page Story Headline

Colorado Street Bridge – “The suicide bridge.” We used the sonic polaroid camera at the base of this bridge, right at the location where it looked like people would have jumped. The last suicide death occurred in 2006. The first one was in 1937.

We have heard voices in the area below (“the Arroyo”), but they did not record well enough for our standards using our Zoom

H2 surround sound recording device.

We also monitored one 12 volt battery drain right at the base of the bridge. The drain was fast but slow enough that you could watch the LEDs move from Full Charge to No Power.

Marilyn Monroe's Grave

We have slipped a remote EMF reporting device into Marilyn Monroe's grave. When it detects an EMF, it calls a pre-designated cell phone number.

The device is used in the petrochemical industry to detect potential dangerous EMFs. When the device detects an EMF, it calls one or more phone numbers. All it needs is a small EMF field to activate and dial the number.

We used a brand new cell phone and a new unlisted phone number as the receiver.

About the cemetery: the front panel on some of those Hollywood grave vaults are loose and can be pushed open enough to slide a small phone in.

About Our Organization...

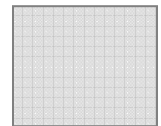

We are a small group of engineers and a physicist who attempt to build devices that will answer the questions of the paranormal. Can ghosts be located and tracked using sound? Can a laser be made to illuminate a spirit entity so that it reveals its complete outline, plus many more questions... Why would engineers devote any time to a subject that is so shunned by the scientific community? Because they believe and to them, it is just another engineering problem to solve...
